Miami J (MJ) CERVICAL COLLAR

Avoid Motrin (Ibupbropen) and Alleve (Naproxen) Avoid Aspirin (unless needed for heart disease or to prevent stroke)

These medications can stop bone healing

What if

- Soreness or irritation under the collar
- New or worse discomfort or pain
- New weakness
- New numbness or tingling
- Collar is not fitting well

?Any Questions?

Spine Clinic
Neurosurgery
and Orthopedics
(206) 744-9350

© 2021 University of Washington, Department of Neurological Surgery

This content is provided for educational and informational purposes only and does not constitute providing medical advice or professional services. The information provided should not be used for diagnosing or treating a health problem or disease, and those seeking personal medical advice should consult with a licensed physician. Always seek the advice of your doctor or other qualified health provider regarding a medical condition. Never disregard professional medical advice or delay in seeking it because of something you have read on a University of Washington, Neurological Surgery website. If you think you may have a medical emergency, call 911 or go to the nearest emergency room immediately. No physician-patient relationship is created by this video or its use. Neither the University nor its employees, nor any contributor to this web site, makes any representations, express or implied, with respect to the information provided herein or to its use. All copyrights to the University of Washington Neurological Surgery web site and its contents are the property of the University of Washington unless otherwise noted. Except when indicated, permission is hereby granted to reproduce, distribute, and display copies of content material for nonprofit educational and nonprofit library purposes, provided that: (i) copies are distributed at or below costs; (ii) author and source are acknowledged; and (iii) a copyright notice is attached to the copies, such notice being in the form "© University of Washington 2021" (or as otherwise indicated on the materials as posted here)